

EKOPESANTREN PROGRAM

Realizing a Green Islamic Boarding School,
Independent, and Environmentally Friendly

EKOPESANTREN PROGRAM

An initiative by the Center for Islamic Studies at the National University in Jakarta that is further developed in 2021.

This program is a strategy to improve the quality of Islamic education, especially within Islamic boarding schools. The Islamic boarding schools have the potential to actively participate in responding to the country's and the world's biggest challenge of climate change and environmental issues through tracking (independent assessment) on environmental-based policy and learning activities.

EKOPESANTREN PROGRAM GOALS

Ekopesantren aims at integrating Islamic teachings and environmental science within the Islamic boarding school education system, confirming the principle that Islam is a blessing to the universe.

The ekopesantren program is expected to generate faithful and tough generation capable of facing climate change and environmental challenges.

EKOPESANTREN PROGRAM BENEFITS

- ✦ An independent assessment tool for the Islamic boarding schools to review current situation, activities, and policy to become 'green' Islamic boarding schools that are clean, independent, and environmentally friendly.
- ✦ To attract the attention from the government and relevant parties to support the establishment of environmental-based Islamic boarding schools.
- ✦ To support the process of behavioral changes within the Islamic boarding schools, creating communities with environmental knowledge and awareness.
- ✦ To strengthen the strategic role of the Islamic boarding schools as the agent of change within the community and education system in Indonesia.
